

Fine fireplace with trumeau carved in French limestone - Louis XIII style

This elegant mantelpiece with trumeau carved in a limestone of Provence (Estailades) is hand-crafted in Provence. Inspired by the classic Louis XIII mantels, it features a pair of long and thin jambs, a wide and molded tablet, a finely molded trumeau and a nice overhanging rounded cornice. A frame is beautifully hand-carved in relief on the trumeau and a large molding is sculpted along the entire hearth opening.
